MY TRUTH.

BY EDWIN LATHAM QUARLES.

God's truth is in the mystery of things, And power is in the frailties He has wrought: So feeling hearts have songs of noblest thought: When gentle touches come upon the strings. The purple hour of vesper-worship brings Soul-flights less high than flowering meads have brought: And in the world no suppler one has taught What hearts may learn from Bird's low carollings. God lives in all fairness He has made, And holy are the frailties of His hand; And I am wise when I have full obeyed The promptings I can little understand; And I am strong when I have wept and prayed And loved the weakness of a woman's hand. In Smart Sat.

RETURN OF GENERAL NOGI.

TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO THE CAPITAL.

The following is taken from the Japan Chronicle of 17th Jan.:

In striking contrast to the pitiless down-pour which characterised the homecoming of Marshal Oyama, the weather in Tokyo on Sunday morning was ideal, and General Nogi, the gallant hero of Port Arthur, entered Tokyo in brilliant sunshine, the crisp frosty air giving an invigorating fillip to the general enthusiasm. All the streets were decked with lanterns and bunting and the people flocked to the vicinity of Shimbashi Station in thousands, many waiting for several hours in order to make sure of seeing the returning General. On the platform it is estimated that 5,000 people assembled. They included Marshal Oyama, Generals Oku, Oshima, Soga, Asada, Yabuki, and Isaji, Prince Tokugawa, Viscount Aoki, Admirals Togo and Dewa, and other naval and military officers, Ministers of State, members of the Diet, representatives of the Princes of the Blood, and the members of the various patriotic societies. There were a few foreigners at the station, and prominent among them Sir Claude MacDonald, the British Ambassador.

At 10.30 a.m. the firing of bombs from various parts of the city signalled the approach of General Nogi's train, and ten minutes later the hero of the hour was among his brother generals, receiving their congratulations. Immediately on alighting Mr. Sirai, the Court Chamberlain, and Major Kuronide, representing the Emperor and Crown Prince respectively, advanced and delivered the Imperial message of greeting, the military band, which was stationed on the gaily decorated platform, playing the air "Triumph" the while. The scene was a dazzling one as the general and his Staff, numbering 45 in all, passed through the throng, and a "Banzai" louder than all went up when the Marchioness Nabeshima presented to General Nogi, on behalf of the Voluntary Nurses' Association, a beautiful bouquet.

A carriage, sent from the Palace, was in waiting outside the station, and the enthusiasm as the General proceeded through the streets was unparalleled, the demonstration being regarded as even more imposing than was the reception accorded Admiral Togo. A squadron of cavalry comprised the guard of honour, and outside the House of Representatives the First Division of Infantry was drawn up. Mounted police and soldiers lined the principal points on the line of route but the crowds were perfectly orderly and required no regulating. During the progress of the General and his Staff through the metropolis salutes were fired and a display of daylight fireworks was carried out in Hibiya Park.

General Nogi and Staff were duly received in audience by the Emperor, and after the General had submitted his report His Majesty thanked and congratulated him on the magnificent service he had rendered his country. The Emperor also presented the General with some valuable gifts.

Subsequently General Nogi took tiffin with General Terauchi and Marshal Oyama at the General Staff Headquarters. After tiffin the General drove to the Aoyama Detached Palace where he was received in audience by the Crown Prince. General Nogi called on all the Princes of the Blood during the afternoon.

Nothing has made a greater impression on the public mind than the modesty of General Nogi, and the genuine affection in which the venerable soldier is held was given ample expression to in his triumphal entry into Tokyo on Sunday.

THE TRUTH ALWAYS.

"When you are in doubt tell the truth." It was an experienced diplomat who said this to a beginner in the work. It may pass in some things, but not in business. Fraud and deception are often profitable so long as concealed; yet detection is certain sooner or later; then comes the smash-up and the punishment. The best and safest way is to tell the truth all the time. Thus you make friends that stick by you, and a reputation that is always worth twenty shillings to the pound everywhere your goods are offered for sale. We are able modestly to affirm that it is on this basis that the world-wide popularity of WAMPOL'S PREPARATION rests. The people have discovered that this medicine is exactly what it is said to be, and that it does what we have always declared it will do. Its nature also has been frankly made known. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Mall and Wild Cherry. A combination of supreme excellence and medicinal merit. Nothing has been so successful in Anemia, Scrofula, Bronchitis, Influenza, Loss of Flesh, and Wasting Diseases, Weakness and Low Nervous Tone, and all complaints caused by Impure Blood. Dr. Austin D. Irvine, of Canada, says: "I have used it in cases where cod-liver oil was indicated but could not be taken by the patient, and the results following were very gratifying." It is effective from the first dose and agrees with the most sensitive and nervous stomachs. It cannot deceive or disappoint you, and comes to the rescue of those who have received no benefit from any other treatment. It stands for the medicinal triumphs of the age. "Watch carefully against imitations." Sold by chemists throughout the world.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 1906.

THE BISHOP ELOQUENT.

If the Bishop of Hongkong reserved for his diocese some of those highly entertaining and useful comments on Chinese life and characteristics with which he regales English audiences, it is certain that there would never be any lack of interest in his discourses. The exhilarating air of England rejuvenates the Bishop, with the natural result that there is what may be described as a stately and dignified abandon in his remarks to home audiences. It should be remembered that the good people of England, who have never left their homes and whose wildest enjoyment has been a trip to Blackpool, have curious and amazing conceptions of the Far East and of the Chinese. It has been dinned into their ears since they first took an interest in missionary affairs that the Chinese are an immoral, treacherous, thankless and inferior race. Anything may be expected of such people; they cannot be painted too black. Of recent years, the "yellow peril" fetch has been raised, and the Bishop of Hongkong, being up-to-date and a student of Chinese matters, made that the subject of a few observations delivered before a select audience or congregation which attended a midday service in the middle of the week at St. Michael's, Cornhill. The right reverend Gentleman began by an allusion to the recent riots in Shanghai, and he declared that he was no believer in the "yellow peril." Unfortunately, he added that he meant the "yellow peril" in the ordinary acceptance of the word, because he did believe, and strongly believed, in the Chinese moral, social and commercial "peril" which might disturb the peace of the world. What all that means we are at a loss to understand. Taking the "ordinary acceptance of the word" to mean the over-running of Europe by the yellow race, how are the Chinese to inflict their moral and social conditions on European nations if they remain at home? As for their commercial dealings, no foreigner in the East will be found to say a derogatory word against the Chinese merchants. They are as straightforward, keen and enterprising as their British and American competitors; they hold by a bargain and suffer loss rather than repudiate an undertaking. That is common knowledge, and need not be emphasized. Surely, the Chinese men of business are not to be calumniated or described as "yellow perils," because they happen to be as astute as their rivals. Evidently the Bishop of Hongkong is uneasy because the Chinese are not so inert as might be desired; they refuse to remain helots. A Chinese coolie to-day is the millionaire of to-morrow; Hongkong and the Straits, particularly the latter, are full of men who have become wealthy entirely owing to their own frugality and exertion. And the British Government delights to honour these men; and seeks their advice on every possible occasion. The Bishop of Hongkong is, however, not quite happy at the trend of affairs. China is awakening; she is beginning to claim what the Bishop speaks of as "rights" that were now demanded by foreign nations of her. The thing is preposterous. Occasionally the Bishop is strangely epigrammatic. He told the London week-day worshippers that: "Much as he loved the Chinese, he thought that a rush abroad of a large number of them to Australia and Canada would be bad for those countries, as the emigrants would take with them their un-Christian habits. If, however, China became Christianized, such an emigration need not be feared. They would take good habits with them, as they were a frugal and industrious people." Would the Nonconformists be entirely satisfied with a Chinese invasion of South Africa, provided the Chinese entering were all converted Christians? The more one reads the Bishop's address and attempts to arrive at his thought, the more obscure does everything become. The inference is, we presume, that the Chinese would spread immorality and new social conditions if they were admitted to countries now barred against them, but who will contend that the Chinese have less morality than the European nations? Thift and industry, their natural habits, should pardon a host of minor social offences—whatever these may be—and the Bishop gives no inkling of them. The fact is that until Europeans—those who know the Far East only from evangelical reports and tourists' stories—treat the Chinese as shrewd, discerning, capable and enterprising people, instead of as curiosities and interlopers, they will never make any headway. Much manlier is the spirit in which Bishop Thorburn of New York regards the Chinese. At a meeting in that city, recently he observed: "If there is anything, in which the American people are foolish, it is their fear of the incoming Chinese. You can handle them a great deal more easily than has been supposed. The Chinese are not coming to this country in such quantities as you suppose. There are many countries more hospitable to them than the United States; and all the rest of the world, except America and Australia, receive the Chinese as Christian people ought to receive strangers; but the Americans, unlike us Orientals, do not wish to see the 'nigger' and the Chinaman alongside of the people of their own race; and they show thereby only their want of manly courage and Christian love." The American Bishop states facts, but the Bishop of Hongkong advances theories to audiences incapable of sifting the grain. It is a pity his lordship does not entertain the people of his own diocese with his acute observations.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE total amount raised by subscriptions from foreigners in Japan towards the Famine Relief Fund, up to the 14th inst., was yen 1,135.38.

A BERLIN telegram of the 11th inst. states that the German Asiatic Bank is making arrangements to establish branches at Singapore and Kobe.

Messrs. Erich Georg & Co. hear that a dividend of one dollar per share is going to be declared by the Hongkong, Canton, & Macao Steamship Co., Ltd.

THE following telegram has been received from the Government of Burma dated the 26th inst.:—"Notification declaring Hongkong infected has been withdrawn and will not issue."

AN assistant from Messrs. Meyer & Company charged two coolies before Mr. F. A. Hazell, this morning for being in the servant's quarters of his house without permission. They were fined $5 each.

VICEROY CHOW, of Liangkang, has decided to build three shallow-draught gun-boats for service on the Yangtze, and has placed an order for the vessels with the Kawasaki Dockyard of Kobe. They are to be completed in a year.

A REGULAR Russian steamship service has been opened between Vladivostok and Shanghai, via Nagasaki. The first steamer on the service is the Montevilla, from Vladivostok, which left Nagasaki on the 8th inst. for Shanghai.

IT is stated that the training-ships Matsumoto, Utsukushima and Itakura arrived at Yokohama on the 9th, after having cruised round Kyushu and Shikoku. The vessels are to make preparations at Yokohama for a voyage to Australia. It appears that the proposed visit of the training squadron to England has been abandoned.

THE State Department at Washington has just determined to enforce the rule that no consular officer shall be appointed unless he can pass an examination in the language of the country to which he may be sent. If that rule applies to officials appointed to Siam, China, Korea and a few other places in this part of the world it will be interesting to see how many candidates offer themselves for examination.

THE following programme of music will be performed by the band of the 19th Infantry on the New Parade Ground, on Monday next, the 29th inst., from 4 to 5.30 p.m.
March "The Light" ..... Hunter.
Overture "The Devil" ..... Aubert.
Waltz "The River of Years" ..... Liddell.
Selection "Gipsy" ..... Jones.
Pavane "The Swan" ..... Applin.
Polka "The Jolly Blue-Boys" ..... Suchy.
God save the King.

UNDER the Merchant Shipping Act, at Gateshead, Mr. Havelock Wilson, Liberal and Labour candidate for Middlesbrough, was charged with having persuaded Chinese seamen to leave a vessel in the Tyne. The Chinese, it was stated, deserted but were charged at the police-court, and ordered to return to their vessel. Mr. Wilson and an interpreter then went to the ship, and the seamen became disaffected. Some of them swam ashore, and one was drowned in making the attempt. The Magistrate discharged the defendant, on the ground that the Chinese were not working at the time he visited the vessel; it could not be held that he had induced them to stop working.

IT was a great shock to his many friends in the Colony, when it was learned that Mr. George A. Chalmers, sub-accountant of the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, had met his death in a sudden and tragic manner owing to a fall on Thursday night. The deceased, it appears, when about to descend the ladder leading from his residence to the servants' quarters, missed his footing in the dark, and was pitched headlong down the steep and narrow steps, sustaining, among other injuries, a fractured skull, to which he succumbed a few hours later at the Government Civil Hospital, whither he had been removed by his messmates as soon as the accident had been discovered. The deceased, who was only temporarily appointed to this Colony's branch of the Bank, from Japan, was about to proceed to Scotland to join his two sisters, and the greatest sympathy is felt for them in their sudden and sad loss.

JURY TOPICS.

27th January.
There was a big concourse of people on the paddock this morning, including His Excellency the Governor, and two A.D.C.'s. The weather was fine—hardly a breath of wind in the air—and it proved just the day for galloping.

All the ponies in training used the outside course.

It is possible that there may be some errors in the times recorded, and if these should be detected they may be attributed to the rush of the ponies running together.

"Dark Worm" has special "times" of his own, I understand, but he refused to disclose them to anybody.

I append the "times" taken at the course.

Fortune Rose, the persistent gate-charger, opened the ball in the dark, with La France Rose as his "annah," 1 1/4 m., 1.34, 1.10, 1.47, 2.20.

Saxonia, 1 m., (Gegg up), 40, 1.16, 1.50.

EARLY BIRD.

The usual Saturday "pows" were held this morning and a good attendance—including a few "strangers"—gathered round the rails. The morning was fine, with a slight breeze blowing. The course was fast and some of the times recorded show good work.

Many were of opinion that the best gallop was done by the Baluchis sub.

I append the times taken:—

THE RIDING BOY.

SOLDIER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

A very sad occurrence took place this morning at about a quarter to nine o'clock at Plover Battery, some distance from Fort Belcher, and much-pained surprise was occasioned at the Royal Garrison Artillery Headquarters when a telephone message was received conveying the information that Gunner Caldwell, R.G.A., had suddenly dropped down dead in his quarters, where he was found by his comrades. The matter is under military investigation, but it is understood that the cause of death was heart failure, as the deceased was of a generally delicate constitution.

ANOTHER NEW YEAR THEFT.

Last evening, at a time when Queen's Road, Central, is most crowded, a Chinaman of the genus loafer noticed that a compatriot of a higher social grade had been making a few purchases, and was carrying the goods tied up neatly in a cloth. This tempting-looking parcel at once aroused the cupidity of the loafer, and he promptly snatched the bundle out of the somewhat loose hold of the owner, and bolted down the street for all he was worth. Now, at this season of the year, a Chinese coolie in a hurry is always an object of suspicion, and so when a stalwart Indian constable, alert for once, spied the flying coolie, he stopped him and asked the reason of such unwonted hurry. While they were parleying, the owner of the bundle, breathless and irate, arrived on the scene, and excitedly claimed his property, and also claimed the snatcher's punishment. An adjournment was made to the Police station, where the claimant proved his title to the bundle, which simply contained some small clothes and a few pairs of socks. The coolie was charged with the theft and locked up until this morning, when he was to be given an opportunity to explain his possession of another man's property. This, however, when he was placed before Mr. F. A. Hazell this morning, he was unable to do, with the result that he was sent to three weeks' hard labour, and ordered to be publicly exposed in the stocks for six hours, in lieu of one day's imprisonment.

NEW YEAR HUMOUR.

THE LAMPLIGHTER AND THE JOKER.

Failure to appreciate a Chinese new year's joke led a lamplighter into trouble and made him to-day a sadder and poorer, but possibly a wiser man. A youthful Chinaman, out for all the "fun of the fair" in celebration of his New Year, seeing a lamplighter illuminating the western district, in the execution of his duties, he thought he would have some fun with him, so selecting a fine big cracker, he aimed, making the illuminator's head his target. He hit the mark, and then the trouble began. Dropping his lighting pole the lamplighter went for the joker, and was proceeding to prepare him for admission to the hospital when a district watchman in plain clothes intervened, and tried to separate the combatants, but without success; he himself getting badly mauled by both parties. Finally a district watchman in uniform chanced along, and recognising his colleague unsmilingly arrested the bunch and marched them to the nearest Police Station, No. 7 West Point. This morning the joke was explained in the Chief Magistrate's Court, but not being able to appreciate it at its full value Mr. F. A. Hazell, after hearing Inspector Collett's description of the fun, fined the lamplighter $10 for the assault on the district watchman and $5 for his disorderly conduct, while the "joker" had to pay $5 for his little bit of fun, which, no doubt, he is now deeply regretting.

SHIPPING TRADE IN THE ORIENT.

THE HILL STEAMSHIP LINE.

Vice-President James, of the Great Northern Steamship Company, who has returned to America from Japan and China, made the announcement that he is considering a schedule for the coming year whereby the Great Northern steamships Minnesota and Dakota will touch at Honolulu on their return trip from Japan and Chinese ports to Seattle. Mr. James stated that as a result of the settlement of the Russo-Japanese war the trade conditions in the Orient show great improvement, and the outlook for a very large increase in the business between America and Japan and China is very bright. He believes that if the United States Congress deals fairly with China in regard to the Exclusion Act the prospect of increased trade with that country will be more favourable. The Hawaiian sugar plantations are producing more than ever before, and at times the San Francisco boats have difficulty in handling the output. At present the Pacific Mail, Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company and the Oceanic Steamship Company practically control the business. By stopping at Honolulu, the Hill liners would bring a large proportion of the Hawaiian trade to Seattle. The stop at Honolulu could be made with comparatively little loss of time. The distance from Yokohama to Honolulu is 3,445 miles and from Honolulu to Seattle 2,305, and schedules could be arranged which would be but little different from the present. The time spent in Oriental ports and in Seattle could be reduced, and the round trip made in about ninety days. At present the round trips are made in eighty seven days.

A PEKING telegram to the Mainichi reports that disturbances which have been prevalent for some time in the district of Heisi, Kiangsu province, are gaining ground, more especially at Taihu and Haining. The Chinese officials there are not taking active measures against the insurgents, and the Peking Government itself does not appear to be ready to take any decisive steps. There is consequently much anxiety among the foreigners in those localities.

THE CANTON AGITATION.

THE VICEROY AND GENTRY.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Canton, 25th January.
The New Year has diverted the minds of the mass of the people from the serious state of affairs that exists in consequence of the high-handed manner in which the Viceroy has acted. I understand that the British Consul-General advised all foreigners to avoid going to see the officials worship the Emperor's tablet last night, or rather this morning. This warning was rather as a precaution than as an indication that there is any hostility against foreigners. Some of the Chinese might like to get the Viceroy into more trouble with the foreigners in order to have a stronger case against him.

Lai Kwai Pui remains in the guard house. He will not come out. He has been degraded and now will not leave the guard house in disgrace. It is said that he will not partake of any food, and refuses the opium pipe. He prefers death to freedom and disgrace. The events of the next few days are awaited with intense interest.

BLUE JACKETS VS. CUSTOMS.

The third match between the men of the U.S.S. Monadnock and an eleven from the Customs staff was played this afternoon. It being a holiday there was a large attendance of spectators. Play began about half past three. The teams were very evenly matched. Each team had already won one match and this was the rubber. During the first half of the game the men from the ship won two goals and the Customs one. Shortly after play was resumed the Customs scored again and for a long time it looked as if the game would end in a draw. Just before the whistle blew for the finish the ball went through the goal and the game closed: Monadnock, 3; Customs, 2.

Opening of Parliament.

LONDON, 24th January.
The King and Queen will open Parliament on the 19th February.

France and Venezuela.

It is formally announced in Paris that France has decided to take action against Venezuela, but will choose her own time and procedure, not allowing Venezuela to force her hand.

It is believed that the Government is anxious not to become involved anywhere pending the outcome of the Morocco conference.

The Elections.

25th January.

Returns to date:—
Liberals 315, Labour 38, Nationalists 87, Unionists, 135.

The United States and China.

Mr. Elihu Root, Secretary of State, in receiving the Chinese travelling Commissioners, said the hearty welcome given to them expressed America's true sentiment towards China.

China Awakening.

Wang Tai Shieh, the new Chinese Minister to Great Britain, at an interview with Reuter's representative, said it was not to be doubted that China would follow the example of Japan and do her best to become a modern nation. A new army would probably be formed in the South on Western methods, similar to the army in Hupch in the North.

The Minister ridiculed the idea of the yellow peril and said that an alliance with Japan at present did not seem practicable, but a peaceful development of the country would make China's relations with England, America and Japan closer, until a formal alliance would be unnecessary.

In regard to the Anglo-Tibet treaty he said that China desired Tibet to be administered in a similar manner to the other provinces, and China, giving more effective administration, England could have no cause to apprehend hostile movements, hence China looked for a modification of the treaty before she could adhere to it.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY IN HONGKONG.

Burglars entered the premises occupied by Messrs. Cottam and Company, Chater Street, early this morning, and succeeded in removing from the store room fifty-two shirts and some odds and ends of wearing apparel. The robbers are supposed to have gained entrance by means of a back window—a pane of glass from which was found to be missing. After the robbers had left the building, they placed the stolen goods in a public chair to be taken away, but, having probably forgotten something, they returned to the shop and appear to have been disturbed, for they decamped leaving the shirts in the chair waiting for them in the street. The chair coolies remained at the shop door for some time getting suspicious they removed the goods to the Central Station. The thieves are large.

INTERPORT HOCKEY.

HOCKEY CLUB V. CANTON H.C.

This match was played on the Hongkong Hockey Club ground at Happy Valley, yesterday afternoon. There was a large assembly of spectators. Both teams played a brilliant game, and at half-time Canton were leading by one to nil. Re-starting the home players put up a strong fight and their backs shone well in keeping off the visitors. After a fast match the Hongkongites won by three goals to two.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

H.M.S. "ANDROMEDA" V. H.M.S. "HANDY."

On the Naval football ground, at Happy Valley, yesterday afternoon, this friendly match was played. The Andromeda proved superior and won by three goals to one.

H.M.S. "TAMAR" V. Y.M.C.A.

This match which was held on the same ground, later in the afternoon, proved of some interest. The Y.M.C.A. kicked off and made their way to the Tamar's citadel, but failed in their efforts. The Tamar sped away and Wilkinson from a free kick netted the first goal for the sailors. In the second half play was rather even but in an attack the Y.M.C.A. equalized. The Tamar pressed severely after this, and Robinson, Ridley and Woolley tied long shots, but failed to score. Result—One all.

The Lusitano football club played the torpedo destroyer Janus on Wednesday and the Rovers on the 26th instant. The Lusitanos won both matches. Score 3 to 2 and 6 to 1 respectively.

THE CHINA BORNEO CO.'S SLIPWAY.

The American schooner Parlor having been overhauled and repaired by the China Borneo Company was removed from the slipway on the afternoon of 28th ult. and left Sandakan for Zamboanga on the morning of 30th ult. The B. N. B. Herald congratulated Mr. Darby on such good work so speedily finished.

ADMIRAL NOEL AT SAIGON.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME.

The warmth of Saigon's reception to the British cruiser squadron under Admiral Sir Gerard U. Noel was truly French. All Saigon appears to have been animated by the one idea that the visitors must realize that the entente cordiale was real, and no shadow affair. The only regret of the people of Saigon was that the big cruisers Diadem, Hogue, and Suffolk remained at Cape St. Jacques instead of proceeding up the river. According to the Courrier Saigonnais, of the 20th inst., the Alacrity brought Admiral Noel to Saigon. A salute of 17 guns was fired by the Alacrity and acknowledged by the Montcalm. Captain Faucon, acting as the representative of Governor-General Beau, proceeded on board the Alacrity and welcomed the British Admiral and his squadron to Saigon, while General Pennington rendered the good wishes of the military to the visitors. Owing to the fact that the British commander is of higher degree in the naval service, Vice-Admiral Richard attended Admiral Noel on the Alacrity. In the afternoon an automobile conveyed the British commander and his suite to the residence of the Governor-General. By mistake, the public ball to be given by the city at the municipal theatre had been fixed to take place on the same evening as that which had been arranged to be given by the officers of the French fleet on the Montcalm. At the last moment, the coincidence was discovered and arrangements made so that the balls should not clash.

A representative of the Courrier Saigonnais visited the Alacrity and had a chat with the officers who accompanied Admiral Noel. Afterwards he visited the lower deck and there he found the petty officers impatiently waiting for permission to go ashore so that they might visit the theatre. They declared that there was not a European theatre or at least they hadn't seen one—between Port Said and Vladivostok. The French journalist remarks cynically, "They will be disillusioned when they go to the theatre."

The programme of entertainments has already been published.

The Courrier Saigonnais has a stirring welcome on its first page to the officers and men of the British squadron. The visit gives the people of Indo-China the opportunity of manifesting their cordial sentiments towards their guests and friends and their satisfaction in the union of hearts. There is only one drawback. They would have desired to extend the fetes beyond the limits laid down by the official programme. Nevertheless the British visitors would be able to recognise the spirit of good fellowship which animated their hosts. The article speaks of Great Britain and France marching hand in hand, securing peace and prosperity on all sides. It concludes—"Vive l'Angleterre! Vive la France!"

JAPANESE POST OFFICE SCHEME.

From the 1st February, a scheme of handling money through the post office will be introduced. Briefly, the proposed plan is to substitute the post office for postal orders. It is necessary to go or send money to the post office. One need only forward one of them to the post office, and forward one of them to the recipient of money, despatching by mail to the post office where one entered oneself as a client of the new system. These transactions will not be performed gratis. The post office will make pro rata charges, but they will be considerably less than the present charges. Further, the client must deposit a sum of 25 yen on which he will not receive any interest.

CHINESE STUDENTS IN TOKIO.

ASSOCIATION FORMED.

An association has been formed in Tokio by the Chinese students with a view to settling the dispute that has recently arisen over the Education Department regulations. Over 2,000 students have joined the association, the rules of which bind the members to attend school as before and pursue their studies. The association aspires to obtain by peaceful means the abrogation of the regulations objected to so bitterly. Those who resort to violent measures will be sent away from Japan by the society.

THE LATE BILL ADAMS.

SEARCHING FOR HIS TOMB.

It is reported that the chief purpose of Sir Claude MacDonald's visit to Hradco was to search for the tomb of Will Adams, the first Englishman in Japan. Sir Claude asked Mr. Kato, a teacher of the Middle School there, to make investigations. Mr. Kato has discovered a tomb which he believes to be the one and will open it in a few days (after obtaining permission we presume) for confirmation.—Ex.

THE WEATHER.

The following report is from Mr. F. G. Figg, First Assistant of the Hongkong Observatory:—
On the 27th at 11.50 a. The barometer has risen in Japan, and fallen over China.

Pressure is highest between the E. coast of China and W. Japan.

Gradients are slight, and moderate to fresh monsoon may be expected in the Formosa Channel and the N. part of China Sea.

Forecast:—E. to N. winds, moderate or fresh gull, some drizzling rain.

SAIGON CANARDS.

REPORTED OUTBREAK OF WAR BETWEEN FRANCE AND GERMANY.

Saigon was in a great state of excitement on the 11th inst. over a rumor that war had been declared between France and Germany. According to the Courrier Saigonnais these rumors had been floating around for several days, gathering strength as they went. Nothing else was discussed in the cafes or in the newspaper offices—which gave birth to the rumour. All those who had relatives or friends in the army were clamouring for news. The representative of the Courrier visited the office of the Governor-General and was told by the Colonial Secretary that the rumour was absolutely without foundation. There was absolutely nothing in the political situation to lead any one to believe that a rupture of diplomatic relations was even probable. Still unconvinced, the newspaper representative interviewed the chief naval officer at Saigon, Admiral de Marolles, who is in command of the naval defences of Indo-China. The Admiral said:—

"I authorize you to state that, to my knowledge, there is not the slightest reason to believe in the possibility of war. I place so little reliance in these warlike reports that I am leaving this evening by the Colombo for Tonkin, in response to a telegram from General Voyron, who is looking after the requirements of the Government mission."

Apparently that satisfied the craving for news and the rumour evaporated. Saigon people are hungering for excitement now that the Russo-Japanese war is ended.

PEKING LEGATION GUARDS.

JAPANESE AND GERMANS AT LOGGERSHEADS.

A correspondent in the P. & T. Times gives some particulars of the brawl between Japanese, Dutch and German soldiers at Peking, of which a great deal has been made in some quarters in Shanghai. They appear to have arisen out of one of those unfortunate rows which will unfortunately occur in a garrison. The first disturbance took place in a house of ill-fame between Japanese and Dutch soldiers. On the afternoon of the 1st, outside the same, undesirable house as before, the Japanese and Dutch again came to blows. This time the Japanese would probably have been the victors had not some French soldiers intervened and put them to the rout. One Hollander was so seriously wounded that he had to be taken to the German Hospital, where he still lies. About nine o'clock the same evening and at the same place another fight took place, this time between Japanese and German. The most contradictory reports are current on both sides as to who started the trouble, but there is no question that it was the most sanguinary fray of all, and blood flowed freely from reciprocal bayonet thrusts and blows. Disinterested parties say that both sides were out looking for trouble and were prepared for it. When the various patrols had finally restored order, eight German and twelve Japanese were sent to their respective hospitals, and one German is in a critical condition, having no less than twenty-five jagged bayonet wounds, two of which are in the head. Colonel Bower and Captain Lee, the corresponding addressees, congratulated their respective forces on their good behaviour and on keeping clear of any trouble. It is evidently high time that the taking authorities cleared out the number of undesirable houses which are responsible for trouble of this kind, and it is something to be grateful for that they are not more numerous.

MALIGNANT MILLIONAIRES.

BENEFACTORS TO THE HUMAN RACE.

Miss Marie Corelli has been writing in the Daily Mail on "The Sorrows of a Millionaire." Several gentlemen who are reputed to be very wealthy have replied, amongst them being Sir Marcus Samuel, who, in the course of some interesting remarks, says:—"Miss Marie Corelli has taken the distorted view of jaundiced disposition, by looking on the evil side of life alone. The sole point on which I agree with her is that the millionaire can only eat three meals a day. She does not realise that the millionaire is a benefactor to the whole human race, because he must necessarily share his wealth largely with others. On the whole, he is an unselfish creature enough, because great wealth brings great responsibility. I disagree most with Miss Corelli in her statement that he misses the saving grace of life—love. Very few men attain wealth, and certainly not happiness, unless they are inspired by this sublime motive. I believe that if Miss Corelli had a wider knowledge of the class about which she writes so glibly, she would find that nine-tenths of them would gladly acknowledge that they owed their success to women, and the fact that they do so doubles their enjoyment of it."

The first authoritative statement of the disposition of the celebrated Jagersfontein Excelsior, the most valuable diamond known prior to the find of last year, is made by Dr. George F. Kuus, of Tiffany & Co. in a report on precious stones which he has submitted to the United States Geological Survey for official publication. This big diamond, which was found in 1898 in the Orange Free State, weighed in the rough 971 carats, or about 71 ounces avoirdupois, and was valued at £200,000. Dr. Kuus says it has been divided into ten stones weighing about 15 carats each, with a total value of £30,000; that the original stone, after being divided, should not bring as much money as its first valuation was expected by diamond merchants, who say that such early estimates are usually exaggerated.

COMMERCIAL.

YARN MARKET.

In their report, dated 26th instant, Messrs. Phiroze B. Durrani and Co. write:—"The period under review for this Mail is much shorter than usual on account of the Chinese New Year falling on the 23rd instant in view of which business is approaching a standstill and may be closed completely till after the New Year festivities have ended and dealers have returned to the market from the interior where they have gone to enjoy this the greatest annual event in the Celestial Calendar. Our Yarn Market during the interval kept almost steady. Business is reported on a very large scale, but in keeping with the time-honoured custom of the Chinese, they will only book their settlements either on the New Year's day or on some subsequent date which their Calendar will give them as auspicious, for particular cases in the First Month of the New Year. Prices in many cases have maintained a steady tone and some of the threads, which were short supplied, fetched higher prices, whilst others have suffered to some extent through hasty sales. A large quantity has been shipped to Shanghai by foreign merchants who have sold it 'forward' at rates lower than those ruling at that end. Clearances during the first week were good; but later on they dwindled down considerably. We close with a firm market and expect a revival of business after the present festivities are over."

Advices from the North show that a good business has been done for clearance after the New Year and more business was hindered by the untidy attitude of Exchange.

The rice crop in Japan is pronounced to be a failure and that in the Kwangtung is promising, which, combined with some easiness of money market amongst the Chinese, has sustained our market.

Sales during period under review are reported of about 50 bales of No. 6; 4,200 bales of No. 10; 1,025 bales of No. 12; 250 bales of No. 16; and 1,000 bales of No. 20; in all about 7,425 bales.

Arrivals during the period per steamers Lightning (from Calcutta) and Pekin and Austria (from Bombay) amount to about 13,000 bales for this Port and about 65,000 bales for Shanghai.

Shipment to Shanghai and the Northern Ports about 5,500 bales.

The unsold stock is estimated at about 73,000 bales.

The Uncleared stock is about 56,000 bales.

Local Yarn.—No business is reported.

Japanese Yarn.—Sales nil.

Cotton.—Ruled quiet. No sales.

SHANGHAI NAIVE CITY.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT AND LOCAL REFORM.

The following interesting article appeared in a recent issue of the South China Daily Journal. It contains so much useful advice that we have pleasure in reproducing it, and also express the hope that the new order of things may develop successfully. Our contemporary says—

"The native city of Shanghai is to be congratulated on the establishment of a municipal government in its district, for with such a local government, an era of progress will dawn upon the city. For years, both the Westerners and Chinese have been wondering why the native city, since the opening of Shanghai as a treaty port, has not shown any sign of improvement. The filthy streets and alleys, the stagnant pools and ditches, the old pollution with the rusty tridents and muskets in front, the dilapidated public places and institutions, the squalid official mansions, the shabby business quarters and private residences, the dirt-mounds accumulated here and there, the dismal street lamps at night, the swarms of dirty and mean beggars at every street corner, and the still more or less the lights of the city, which form a striking contrast to the young, neighbouring settlements, and reflect on the Authorities and people alike.

At last, the officials and gentry seemed to realize that something must be done to improve the city, and a few years ago, a company was formed to introduce waterworks into this walled town, the centre of controversy, and many but ineffective reforms were attempted. It was found, however, that not until the establishment of municipal government can the local reforms be effectively carried out. This applies to the native city of Shanghai as well as to any other Chinese city which stands in need of improvements.

The average city or district magistrate is not disposed to introduce reforms during his term of office, since he has to make a fortune sufficient to make sure of his promotion, or he has secured the post through an outlay of thousands of taels, it becomes his business to get all back with compound interest. Besides, with his manifold duties, he has neither time nor energy to attend to the welfare of his district. A conscientious magistrate may sacrifice much of his income to the improvement of his district, but his successor is not likely to follow in his footsteps, and thus the sporadic progress, if it be progress at all, is arrested.

It is clear, then, that in order to enforce important and salutary reforms in any Chinese city, the people must take a prominent part. This implies willingness on the part of the people to assume heavy responsibilities and sacrifices, but the more the people are enlightened, the more they are willing to sacrifice for the good of their country. In the history of some cities or towns, there have been men actuated by pure motives to repair bridges or public thoroughfares at their own expense, and some did it because they believed that such deeds were meritorious. But so long as the majority of the people are only for the sake of the money, there can be no progress in their midst. It might as well be realized that the people, while clamouring for popular rights, must give up something in one form or other to secure and enjoy such rights. In a word, they must be willing to be taxed for all lawful and necessary purposes; they should consider it their duty to devote so much of their time, to the management of the local government, in order to raise the standing of the city which they represent; they should foster public opinion against the corruption of the yamens, and against the avaricious runners that call for sweeping reforms, to secure the right of personal liberty, and against all that is harmful to the well-being of their city; they should teach humanity even in the treatment of animals, and in the interim, Chinese, horses and donkeys are often seen with bones sticking out of the flesh, and yet they are added for hire as usual, the officials being quite indifferent to their sufferings.

We thus see the importance of municipal government, but there can be no such government unless the people of the representative class are enlightened, and fit to govern themselves, and the local authorities are able to understand the times as they are, and encourage their people to take steps towards the establishment of it, though it may curtail their judicial and executive powers or limit their usual resources. The authorities will have to know that there are things which it will be well to be left to the people to insure permanent improvement, and the people should prove themselves worthy of the trust. When there is an understanding between the two parties, and with mutual co-operation, municipal government, which is the basis of local reform, is assured.—Shanghai Times
